[From the Louisville Democrat.] Assassination of Lincoln.

A Prisoner in the County Jail Confesses to be the Author-His Confession -He Afterwards Attempts Suicide.

On the 12th of last mouth Sterling King was presented before the police court upon the charge of having stolen a horse and buggy from the proprietor of a livery stable in Ciucinnati. The proof was clear against him, and he was committed to jail to await a requisition from the Governor of Ohio. He is charged with having stolen several horses from the neighborhood of Porkopolis. King, after his committal to jail, made a statement, or what might be killed President Lincoln. He says that called a confession, of a most horrible crime, namely, that of the murder of the President of the United States King states that he was the man who he entered the theater as any other person, purchasing a ticket and paying for it. At the appointed time he entered the private box, in Ford's Theater, Washington, where Mr. Lincoln was, and he shot him with a single-barrel pistol, which he let fall at the time he leaped from the box He gives as his object for using a single-barrel pistol that he was compelled to leave it behind him, and if it had been a revolver those in the box might have used it against him. He further says that after he shot the President and leaped from the box, he passed by several persons, but one of whom he knew, Miss Laura Keene, and she did not know him. According to his statement, J. Wilkes Booth, whom it is said was the murderer of Lincoln, was in the rear of the theater awaiting with horses. From the vicinity of Ford's Theater, he states that he went to the residence of Secretary Seward, and after forcing an entrance, he made an attack upon the Secretary himself, cutting him in the thoat with a bowie-knife. He says that after young Seward was knocked down, the old man begged not to be murdered, and that he struck the biow to silence him. His only regret seems to be that he did not kill the Sccretary.

He says that the statement published in the papers, that there were two persons in the affair, is false, as he is the man who shot the President and made the attack upon Secretary Seward .- He says that there was another person in the affair who has not yet been apprehended, who was to have killed Stanton, but he failed to fulfill his pledge In regard to Booth, he says Booth had nothing to do with the killing, with the exception of assisting him make his escape from the City of Washington. He gives in his written statement, which is now in the hands of the military, the route he persued after leaving Washington. He says that the man killed in the barn, and who is said to have been Booth, is a prisoner who escaped from the Ohio prison. He claims to have, in company with Booth, went from Washington to Canada, and from thence to the island of Cuba. He states that his object in returning to the United States was for the purpose of releasing Jeff Davis, the President of the Confederate States. In regard to Mrs. Surratt, who was executed as one of the conspirations, he says that she knew nothing of the conspiracy The parties who plunned the affair, three of whom have never been heard of, met regularly at the house of Mrs. Surratt, but she knew nothing of their designs. He says that he was President. King is a man who, during the war, figured in both armies, being convicted by a military commission in each and sentenced to death .- at the time he made his escape from Covington he was under sentence of death as a guerrilla and spy. He gave as an object for making the confession that his name men who inhabit it will be but "hewers would be published as arrested for horse- of wood and drawers of water" to a stearing, and as there were those in motly crew of foreign adventurers and Washington who knew him he would negro barbarians." be sent for.

A Reign of Terror in Galveston, Texas—Outrages by Negro Sol-diers

The Galveston Bulletin reports an alarming state of affairs in that city, and one that demands redress. The facts of the case show the absolute necessity of the removal of negro troops from that and other sections of the South. The Bulletin of the 20th says: During the latter part of last week we heard many complaints made by citzens of the disorderly conduct of negro soldiers. The wives of several citizens were insulted, and a good deal of alarm existed among those who were compelled to be out after nightfall. On Saturday evening these outrages reached their climax, stimulated, no doubt, by the terrible homicide of that day. During Saturday and Sunday a reign of terror held sway over our city, which has not yet wholly subsided. We have heard of twelve or fifteen of these outrages which took place on Saturday night, in about ten of which firearms were used, and in one case with serious and perhaps mortal effect. Mr. Oliver Goullett, while in conversation with Mr. Perkins, a well known citizen, near the house of the latter, was assailed by a party of negroes armed with muskets, who fired eight or ten shot at them, two of which struck Mr. Goullett, one through the arm and the other through the left eye, coming out of the temple .- Mr Goullett still lays in a critical condition. Mr. George R. Chamber, near Tremont and Broadway, was fired at several times, but not

A large crowd of negroes visited the house of Mr Lawrence Austerberg, swearing that they would kill the damued rebels. Mrs. Austerberge succeeded in inducing them to go away, but not before they had fired several times. Officers Thackeray and Bernard were called opprobrious names and fired at. Mr V I. Baulard made his escape from a party who fired a volly after him. We have heard of others, but these are taken from affidavits filed before the Mayor. Officers have called upon us and stated their utter inability to keep the peace. There have also been a number of cutrages by white soldiers.

A storehouse near the market was fired into, in broad daylight, yesterday Other shots were fired in different parts of the city. The peace of the city must be preserved. If the police force cannot do it, then let the military take the entire control, and if they cannot, then the citizens must do it for themselves. Law-abiding men and their families can not thus be put in iconardy with impunity. Since the first of January our city has been beset by gangs of desperadoes, who have had their own sway, without let or bindrance.

Ar The Macon Telegraph, an able paper, thus speaks of the proposed so-called compromise of J. W. Stewart:

"Now, we have only to say on this matter, that if the South should ever give up this question of suffrage to others, or for the attainment of any present good consent to exercise the right in accordance with the views of the North and not her own, she will have scaled her doom for all time. The second section of the bill also contains an enumeration of the rights to be enjoyed by these classes, and so made citizens in every State and territory in the U.S. It gives parties the right to purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property and to have full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for security of person and property the same enjoyed by white citzens. So, too, they are made subject to the same punishments, pains and penalties, in common with the white citizens and no others. Thus is an equality of the white and colored races attempted to be fixed by Federal laws in every State of the Union, one vast field of State jurisdictions governed by those chumerated rights in one of them. Can any State exercise any favor of discrimination between the different races in the exercise of State policy of matters exclusively affecting the people of each State? It has frequently been thought expedient to discriminate between the two races by the statutes of some of the states North as well as South. It is enacted, for instance, that no white person shall intermarry with a negro or mulatto, Chancellor Kent says speaking of the blacks, that marriages between them and whites are forbidden by some of the States where slavery against public decorum I do not say races, for as whites are forbilden to inonly make such contracts with themselves as the whites are allowed to make and therefore, cannot, under the bill, enter into a marriage contract with the M. I do not mean to say that upon all

The object of the second section of the bill is to afford discrimination and protection to co ored persons in the full enjoyment of all the rights secured to them in the preceeding section. It declares that any person who, under color tion, or custom, shall subject, or cause to be subjected, any inhabitants of any any right secured or protected by this and penalties, on account of such persons having at any time been held in a condition of slavery or involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whoreof the party shall have been duly convicted, by reason of color or race, than is prescribed for the punishment of white persons, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall pe punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, at the dis cretion of the court.

This section seems to be designed to apply to some existing or future law of a with the provisions of the bill now under posing fine and imprisonment upon the Legislature who may pass such conflicting laws, or upon the officers or the agents who shall put or attempt to put them into execution. It means an of-the State Judiciary or the State Legislature. It is therefore assumed that under this section members of a State Legislature who should vote for laws conflicting with the provisions of the bill that Judges of the State courts who should render judgements in autagonism with its terms, and that marshals and sheriffs who should, as ministerial officers, execute processes sanctioned by State laws i sued by state Judges in the execution of their judgements, could be brought before other tribunals and there subjected to fine and imprisonmet for the performance of the duties which such State laws impose. The legislation thus proposed invades the judicial power of the State. It says to every State Court or Judge. if you decide that this act is unconstitutional - if you refuse, under the prohibition of a State law, to allow a negro to testify-if you hold that over such a subject matter the said law is paramount, and under color of a State law refuse to exercise the right to a negro, your error of judgement, however consciencious, shall subject you to fine and imprisonment.

I do not apprehend conflicting legislation which the bill seems to contemplate is so likely to occur as to render it necessany at this time to adopt a measure of such doubtful concitutionality. In the next place, his duty of a judicial decision converts the State judge into a more ministerial officer, bound to decide 20 cording to the will of Congress. It is clear that in States which deny to persons these rights as secured by the first section of the bill, or any one of these rights all criminal and civil cases conthering will, by the third section, come under the executive cognization of the federal tribunals - It follows that it any State which denies to colored personany of all these rights, that a person should commit a crime, against the laws of a State, murder or any other crime, all protee ion and punishmaint by the courts of the State are taken away, and he can only be tried and punished in federal courts. How is the criminal to be tried if the offences provided for and punished by the federal law and not the State is to govern, it is only when the offence does not happen to be within the juris diction of the Federa: law, that the federal courts are to try and pouls he him under any other law than this, that resort is to be had to the common law as modified and changed by State regislation. so far as the same is not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States. So that over this vast domain of criminal juri-prudence provided by each State for the pun stiment. of ait persons who violated its estiminal and, hadred law, whenever it can be made to apply, displaces State law. Dr. Barnes and the South

The following extrict from a dis course which Rev., Albert Barnes, D. D, of Philadelphia, de ivered to his people on last Thanksgiving day, is so cruthful and so timely that it deserves wide publicity, especially in con ideration of the source from whence it comes:

"I hesitate not to say, on the whole, the conduct of the South in the feelings evinced on the termination of the con fliet, has been such as to demand the confidence of the North, and to secure the admiration of mankind. The surrender of armd forces was so complete and entire; the cessation of hestilities was so immediate and utiversal; the acknowledgement that they had been overcome was so prompt, frank and maily, the readiness to return to the Union has been so general and apparently so sincere; the recognition of the fact that slavery is extinct forever has ben so wisely admitted as a fact-vast as are the consequences involved and as the change in their habits; the readiness to come under the arrangements for collecting the revenue has been so prompt the disposition to resume commerce intercourse with the great cities of the North has been so marked; and the willinguess to come into the great arrangements of the nation for the perpetusting freedom was so general, that we see in this, I think the return of the feelings of the best days of the Republic. There is a large never failing spring within 100 yards of the house with a branch flowing from it nearly large cough to turn a mill—also a well of the water in the ward—it mill—also a well of fine water in the yard—it has on it also a large gin house—a large apple and peach orehard, and taken altogether is one of the most valuable and desirable farms in North Alabama.

ALSO-A Farm of 876 acres more or less in Calhoun county, Ala., within 8 miles of Jack-sonville, 1 mile of Alexandria and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville & Selma Railroad-350 acres cleared the balance in original forest heavily timbered. This farm is very finely watered by spring branches which head on the place -80 acres of the open hand is cedar bottom of very superior quality producing a good season 50 bushels of corn per acre and i bale, of cotton. Improvements—a large well finished frame brovenerthe large wen institute forms on the louse and all necessary out buildings in a good state of preservation. There is a Baptist church on the land—and the society in the neighborhood equal to any in the State. This farm in the hands of a good practeal farmer could be made one of the most productive in the region in which it is located. It has on it 13 miles of cedar fencing taken off the cedar bottom. Lime stone is very abundant on the place which could be converted into line at very little cost either for market or for fertilizing purposes on the farm. HUGH FRANCIS, Agent

General Lee's Testimony. We have the following report of the examination of Gen. Lee before the Reconstruction Committee.

-- Do you see any change among the government and the peace and prosperi-poorer classes of Virginia in reference to ty of their respective States? industry: are they as much or more interests than they were?

Answer. I have not observed any change. Every one now has to attend to his own business for support. Q. The poorer classes are generally hard at work, are they? A. So far as I know they are I know nothing to the contrary. Q. Is there any difference in their relation to the colored people, is their pre-judice increased or diminished?

A. I have noticed no change. As far as I do know, the feelings of all the people of Virginia are kind toward the colored people, I have never heard any blame attributed to them as to the present condition of things, any responsibility.

Q. There are very few colored laborers employed, I suppose. A. These who own farms have employed, more or less, one or two colored laborers, some are so poor that they have to work themselves. O. Can capitalists and working men from the North go into any portion of Virginia with which you are familiar, and go to work among the people. A. I do not know of anything to prevent them; their peace and pleasure depend very much on their conduct; if they confined themselves to their own business, and did not interfere to provoke cotroversies with their neighbors I don't believe they would be molested. Q. There is no desire to keep out labor and capital?

A. Not that I know of; on the contrary, they are anxious to get capital in the South. Q. You see nothing of a disposition to prevent such a thing? A. I have seen nothing, and do not know of anything. As I have before said, the manner in which they would from the Union, would they or not, in be received would depend entirely upon these individuals themselves. Many persons attribute the most desperate designs to the Radical leaders .-Their effort now is to get two-thirds majority in both House of Congress. To accomplish this they are getting rid of Democrate as fast as possible. In the event that they get two-thirds of the Senate, then an alarming condition of things will have been reached What could they do with that decisive na or. ty? Will they content themselves with theatening or will they strike!-The President cannot be frightened, therefore they must strike, or stand still Can they stand still? Could R-bespierre, or Mura, or their adherants stand still? No, it was impossible. They were impelled by forces not less powerfull than destiny, to go on. So the Radical leaders cannot pause, if the point of impeachment is reached, and the impression is that if they get the necessary power they will push the President to the wall Suppose then the impeachments made and sustained, will the President like the dying Gladiator "consent to death?" It is not his na-ture to do this. He has a good ground of reliance. It is that his sentence of impeachment is illegal and void because done by a portion of the representation of the States in the Senate, which portion illegally, prevent any delegation from the Southern States from taking their seats. Cotton Picking A Valuable Inven-

The greatest difficulty in raising of extron is the process of gathering it. The planter begins to pick his orop early in September, and continues till the last of November, sometimes much later. During the entire sesson the whole force is engaged in picking all the time, of tyranny, confiscation and proscrip-This is made necessary by the fact that the cotton ripens at different periods.

The gathering of a cotton crop requires three times as many as its cultivation It is the hardest and mosi disa greeable work of the plantation; and the negro would perform any other labor. During the picking season extra hands are hired at very high prices ---Large portions of the crop are annually lost because it cannot be secured during the picking season.

The difficulties are very greatly aggravated by the present condition of la bor at the Sou h. Thousands of additional acres would be planted, this year. if the planter did not fear losing his crop for want of power to gather it. To meet this emergency, a cotton picking machine has been invented, which will do the work of twenty men, and dispense with the labor of extra hands. The inventor claims that it will gather cotton at distances ranging from six inches to six feet, that is will gather it as clean as the most export hand; taking the cotton only from the bolls which are fully ripe and well open; leaving the undeveloped pods uninjured, and not harming the plant. Of course, the difficulties infinitely exceed those attending the mowing and reaping machine. But these difficulties have been overcome by the ingenuity of a New England man; and the most skil ful exper:s of Massachuset's pronounce the invention a success. If this proves true, the machine will be more effectual than the cotton gin in stimulaling the production of this great staple. The commerce of the world will be ouce noce revolutionized by the enormous in rease of the co ton crops and this timely invention will be of incalculable vale, both to its proprietors and to the ountry. The mod I its now in this city, under the charge of Gen. Himt, a loyal Tennessean; and it will be offered o the capitalists of this vic nity. If it answers the expectations of those who have seen it, our manufacturers will be ortunate in securing the property in this great invention.

the height of the occasion. Men whose nerves are shaken by the holiday politics of such a country as ours, will stand ag hast at the audacity with which Presid ent Johnson confronts his adversaries. No man has ever struggled in a nobler cause, and it is better to fall in such an enterprise, than to succeed in a policy

The Griffin Herald states that sixty thousand of the one hundred thousand called for have already been subscribed to aid in the completion of the Savannah, Griffin and North Alabama railroad. The Editor deems the enterprise an important one, and thinks it will be rapidly pushed forward to completion. We believe this road is designed to connect Griffin with Decatur, Ala;, via Newman and Jacksonville.

We clip the following from the correspondence of the Springfield Republic, from this city, over the signature of . R.

A young man who, before the war, had been salesman in a Louisville house, went into the rebel army, fought all through the war, and was finally surrendered with Johnston's army. He did not return to Louisville, but thought he would pre'er s. eking employment in some city where he was not so well known and therefore came to Cincin-

"After diligent search he found a prominent dry goods merchant who was in need of a salesman, and a contract was entered into at once. The young man knew that the merchant had been intensely loyal during the war, and that he had given largely of his ample means to the Sanitary Commission, and other benevolent objects for the support of the war, and therefore very naturally desired to conceal the fact that he had been in the robel army. One day, however, a couple of merchants from the South were in the store replenishing their stocks and remembered the young man, who, in turn, recognizing them, tried to avoid coming in contact with them. In this he failed; for the gentlemen, having concluded their purchases, asked our merchant if they had not seen a salesm n in the store named D--? Being informed that a young man of that name was there employed, they informed the merchant somewhat of his history, and shortly afterward departed.

Ine young man was soon very much confounded at receiving a message that his pr sence was desired in the "office." With some nervousness and equal fear he entered the office, but with the determination to put as good a face on the matter as he could. The merchant spoke:-- 'Have you been in the rebel army!" 'Yes, sir., said D-"You are probably acquainted in the South?' said the merchant Being answered in the affirmative, the merchant continued: "I increase your salary five hundred dollars, and I want you to act as trave ing agent for my house in the Suthern States"—This is the only one of many—very many—instances where rebets a diers procure desirable positions. as Front, Main, Fourth and Fifth streets are full of them They attract South ern trade. Basil Duke and a brother of John Morgan have a commission and produce bouse on Fourth street, and are doing a splendid business.

The New York Tribune's Paris correspondent writes: "Very intimate per the destination of the Fenians. Inforthere is no present intention of withdrawing from Mexico; that all the speech from the throne meant was, that when the French interests were fully secured, and the purpose of the expedition accomplished by the consolidation of Maximillian's Government. Then, & not before, the army will be deficultely recalled, and this will certainly require considerable time. The American pub-lic will perceive that their satisfaction over the Imperial speech has been the resul rather of their own wishes than of a considerable seru iny of the words and motives of Napoleon. My own opinion is, that the Imperial declarations are good just so far as they ato confirmed by acts, and no further. That wil be a very bad policy for our people or our Government to for set that Napolcon III will bear watching."

The New York Post, a Radica: journal, thus proposes to treat the Southern people:

The old method of suppression has been often tied, and has always failed Let us try a new plan. Let us say to the Southern people, "you shall be in all things as tree abowe are: you shall be represented in Congress; you shall say what you please, shout for whom you please, wear what coins you like; we only require that you shall grant the, same right to us, that you shall keep the peace, obey and enforce the laws, and protect all others in the rights which you demand for yourselves."

Included in the exports were 12,039 bales, valued at $2. 462, 650, to the single port of Liverpool. The "Times" states that thus far in the current cotton year, commencing with September 1, 1862, the exports of the staple from New, York have been 291,287 bales, which represent a currency value of nearly sixty-one and a half millions of dollars. The receitnts of cotton at New York, from all sources, since September 1, 1865, have been 616,105 bales, worth about one hundred and twenty-nine millions of

RUMOR THAT JEFE. DAVIS AND C C. CLAY ARE TO BE RELEASED ON PAROLE.

It is generally expected that the President will in a few days release Jeff Davis and Clement C. Clay on parole. There is no probability of their ever being tried for their participation in the conspiracy by which the President was murdered. It is not unlikely that Congress will again call for the testimony that has so far been kept secret, and its existence known to but few persons-Judge Holt has expressed his opinoin in writing that it was enough to convict them, and no one is more surprised at their not being tried than Judge Advocate Holt.

Impeachment of the President.

The impeachment of the President, ong confidently whispered as one of the leading, schemes of the Radicals, says the Atlanta Era, is now openly advocated by leading Radicals, both in Congress and out of it. These leading newspapers of the Radical school—journals which had been long regarded as authority in the party which they represent, have come out boldly and announced the purp se of Congress to impeach the I'r sident.

A Washington dispatch of the 6th states that the President has been inform. ed of t'e purpose of the Radicals to attempt his impeachment, and that he is now daily expecting the event, and is ful y prepared to meet the exigencies of the occasion.

The country will understand, when it is perhaps too late, that the impeachment of the Presiden will inaugurate a civil war which will be fought not in he desolate couth or the distant West, but in New England, begining in Washington .- Rome Courier.

A waggish cobbler, once in Rome, Put forth a proclamation, That he'd be willing to disclose, For a due consideration, A secret which the cobbling world Could ill afford to lose-The way to make in one short day, A hundred pair of shoes.

From every quarter, to the sight, There ran a thousand fellows: Tanners, cobblors, boot men, shoe men, Jolly leather sellers—
All redolent of beer and smoke,
And cobbler's wax and hides Each fellow pays his thirty pence, And calls it cheap besides.

Silence! The cobbler enters, And casts around his eyes; Then curls his lip-the rogue!-then frowns And then looks wondrous wise.
"My friends," he says, "tis simple quite, The plan that I propose;
And every one of you I think,
Might learn it if you chose.

"A good sharp knife is all you need, In carrying out my plan; So easy is it, none can fail, Let him be child or man To make a hundred pair of shoes, Just go back to your shops, And take a hundred pair of boots And cut off all the tops.'

DARK and DREARY.

BY LONGERLLOW.

The day is cold, and dark and drears; The vine still clings to the mouldering wall,
But at every gust the dead leaves fall,
And the day is dark and dreary.

My life is cold, and dark and dreary; It rains, and the wind is never weary;
My thoughts still cling to the mouldering past,
But the hopes of youth fall thick in the blast,
And the days are dark and dreary.

Be still, and heart! and cease repining; Behind the clouds is the sun still shining; Thy fate is the common fate of all-Into each life some rain must fall, Some days must be dark and dreary.

The progres of Abomination.

Whilst the unscrupulous and revolutionary faction now in possession of the Legislative department of the National Government, says the Atlanta Era, are moving heaven and earth to subvert Constitutional government, its agents are busily at work in some of the State governments.

In the Tennessee House of Representatives on the 12th, the Jacobin faction have at last obtained a quorum by a nice little dodge, and have passed the Franchise Bill. The chairman of the "Committee on Elections" favored the admission of four new members. When the roll was called it was discovered that only fifty three members competent to vote were present? It was then determined to push matters to a crisis A motion to "swear in" the newly admitted members was not sustained by the Speaker, on the ground that there was not a quorum present. Thereupon a government." motion was put that the Clerk should swear them! the Speaker, to save the body from such a disgraceful exhibition directed the four to be sworn in. Declaration of Independence

Politicians of the Sumner way of thinking make frequent appeals to the principles embodied in that famous instrument known as the Declaration of Independence, to which our respected fathers subscribed their lives, their fortunes and their sacred bonor. It was a very creditable document to have been written by a slaveholder who "traded in human flesh;" and to have been made good by the sword of a slavohelder who 'bought and sold human souls." Declaration denounced the King of England, among other things, for having erected a multitude of new offices" and for having "sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance."

For having "kept among us, in time of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures." For having 'affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power."

Washington correspondent of the Picayune thus discusses the probties of the escape of Booth, the lerer of Lincoln, and ventilates

ly mysterious affair : singular statement has recently received here from the military auities in one of the Western military artments, to the effect that the real Herer of President Lincoln has been overel; and that Booth, although an purplice, was not the man who fired who was shot at night, in the barn not Booth, but that Booth escaped, to Canada and afterwards to Cuba. re is more in the story than appears the surface; and there are persons who believe it to be substantially

It is certian that there are facts ch tend to confirm the truth of the v in all its essential parts. Your lers will remember that not only for w days after the assassination, but weeks afterwards, the minds of the itary authorities here were in a state reat excitement. As for the suborates, the detectives whose wits were rpened by the hope of winning the vard, and the individuals who joined the pell-me'l scramble and the wild at after Booth, they were excited to it extent that they acted more like dmen than reasonable creatures. ley jumped at once to the conclusion Booth was the assassiu, and that the lividual who was skulking in the amps on the lower Potomac, must be ooth.—It never seemed to occur to on that the two men who were trackthrough those swamps, and who finalwere caught in the barn, might have en decrys, to lead the pursuers of e murderer on a wrong scent. But that is the id-a that begins to erail here now. It is known that both was well supplied with funds, and would have been easy for him, with s skill and ad tress as an actor, to have nictly left Washington on any of the pins that left here on the day after the urder' 'made up as a preacher, an o'd an, or in any other character; and to ave reach d Canada without ob trueon. That he really did so, there are e remembered that the party who suro ex ited that they did not know what hoy were about; and that Boston Corlittle better than a lunatic. The party was numerous; they had entirely surminded the barn; the escape of the man uside was impossible (after one of the we had come out and surrendered,) or they kept him in view all the time, rived, and the man been easily taken alive. But no; the valorous Boston Carbet must shoot at him through the gracks of the logs, and thus the poor wretch was kille l.

Now, if it was Booth, why was he not ! shown? There were hundreds of peode who kn w Booth, and many came und offered to identify the body. But ot one of them was a lowed to see it t was kept secluded from view and losely guarled. It was never identied as the balv of Booth, and it was in ally descroyed, not buried, in order it might never beide stified. , where identification was so easy, the athorities committed a great blander n not having the body of this man

Both must have power of oppression, or lose the only soluce of their remorse, their disappointment or their shame. They are said to be fanatical. Believe it not. There is now a great plot among them -a perfect method of madness-in which no detail is disproportioned, no fatal shot. Furthermore that the instrumentality distorted, no contigency uncounted by the characteristic cuthusiam and sincere but fatal zeal of the fanatic All is as sober, as shrewd, as unconscionable and as cold as ever sedition was planned, stratagem contrived, or asassination canvassed, by the desperate and monstrous, usurpers of the dark ages There is not a functic in Congress. There is no Gerret Smith, no Giddings, no Lovejoy There is Sumner, with his scrap-book of fraud; Stevens, vivid in every motion and look of his contemptuous command to an associate, "to hell with your conscience:" Fessenden, the restive, envious, but compulsory follower of Sumner; Wade, the blasphemous and brutal, who dares to insult the prayers of Christians by thanking their God, in open Senate, for the impending death of fedow Senators. Such are examples of the "fanatics." As well class the cold but delusive cexterity of the midnight gaming boad with the impassioned but prepesterous earnest ness of the mourner's bench, as the soulless ratiocination of these men's podities with the hone t but unreasonable fervor of the John Browns, the Gid dinges, and the Lovejoys of a former There cannot n w be abolitionists because there is nething to abolish.

Homicide near Cave Springs.

We learn that on Thursday last Mr R. P. Lyle living about three miles from Cave Springs was killed by his son Evan Lyle under the following circumstances: The old man was beating his wife and she called on her son for relief; Mr. Lyle forbid his coming and shor at him as he approached, when the son, killed his Father by shooting or by some other means. The young man immediately gave himself up to the officers of the Law. The injuries received by Mrs. Lyle at the hands of her husband are said to be of a serious character, so much so that death is apperbended. The above statement is from a gentleman who left Cave Springs very soon after the news of this sad affair had reached there, and there may be some mistakes in regard to some of the particulars in this account .- Courier.

A Philadelphia Lawyers Opinion of Congress

On the 5th inst. J. C. The clerk refused to accept this bill, which drew forth from him the fullowing epistle:

To the Receiving cork at the office at the Trustees of the Philadelphia Gus works.

I sent you this morning the amount of my gas bill furnished on the 1st inst. You refused to receive it, as my messenger reports, because I had seen fit to designate the thirty cents per thousand feet tax as "an Abolition imposition upon white labor, levied by a Congress of traitors upon the labor of white men, to support a corrupt negro war against the soverign rights of States and the peop'e thereof.'

> THE TEST OATH .- As a remedy for the future, the Postmaster General suggests a modification of the oath by inserting the word "voluntary" immediately preceding the word "sought," so that the clause would read. "That I have neither voluntarily served nor acfunction or office whatever, under any authority or pretended authority, in opposition to the United States. This would enlarge the class of persons who would qualify as postmas er, and be in harmony, it seems to him, with the general provisions and purposes of the oath, and thus facilitate the speedy reestabshment of the postal service to the common benefit of all sections of the country; for it must be borne in mind that while the people of the Southern States are more directly interested in this, other States are also largely interested. It may be be says interesting to know that of 2,258 mail routes in operation in disloyal States at the breaking out of the rebellion, the service of 757 only have been restored; and that of 8,902 post-office in these States, only 2,042 appointments of postmasters have been made, of whom 1,177 only have quali-fied for office, 747, of whom being males and 420 females. The Devil uttered an infernal growl, shook his chains, spit sparks of fire from his mouth, and filled the air with a smell of brimstone. The unearthly manifestations of the demon made the hair stand on the man's head; but he could not bear to lose his bacon. He then, nothing daunted, determined to have another fire at the devil, and took the precaution to put a minnie ball in his gun. The shot took effect directly in the eye of the monster, and he rolled upon the ground a lifeless corpse. A FORTUNATE MAN .- The Detroit. Mich. papers tell of a man in that city, who has lately come into possession of property which has been in suit for more than three hundred years. In 1560, one of his ancestors in Germany laoned money to a certain Count, who died without paying it. The estate of the Count was put under sequestration, and has, till now, been in the control of the Prussian government. A settlement having been reached at last, the heirs of the loaner have received more than a milion of dollars, the principal and interest of their ancestor's claim,

She has studied human nature. She has schooled in all her arts, She has taken here diploma As the mistress of all hearts; She can tell the very moment When to sigh and when to smile; Oh! a maid is some times charming, But a widow all the while!

You are sad? How very serious Will her handsome face become: Are you angry? She is wretched, Lonely, friendless, tearful, dumb; Areyou mirthful? How her langter, Silver sounding will ring out; She can lure, and catch and play you, As an angler does the trout.

All old bachelors of forty,
Who have grown so bold and wise, Who have grown so cold and.
Ye Adonises of twenty,
With your love looks in your eyes,
You may practice all the lessons
Taught by Cupid since the fall,
But I know a little widow
Who could win and fool you all?

THE OLD LOVE.

I met her; she was thin and old; She stooped and trod with tottering feet, The hair was gray that once was gold, The voice was harsh that once was sweet Her hands were dwindled, and her eyes, Robbed of the girlish light of joy, Were dim; I felt a sad surprise That I had loved her when a boy.

But yet a something in her air Restored to me the vanished time: My heart grew young and seemed to wear The brightness of my youthful prime, I took her withered hand in mine—lts touch recalled a ghost of joy— I kissed it with a reverent sigh,
For I had loved her when a boy.

PHARAOH'S SERPENTS.

From the little cone of silver-foil,
That fizzes and fumes with a fretful fire,
There cozes a scrpent all yellow and ribbed,
That rolls and thickens, and curls still higher.

The magic thing, as if by spell, Suddenly ceases its sluggish crawl; Its fiery breath has quite burnt out, And leaves a coil of dust-that's all-

The wise man's toy is a type of life; And all our struggles for paltry things; Our diplomatic treatise and talk, Tangled and bound with red-tape strings.

Our spiders' webs, and our subtle plans; Our love and joy, and our brittle dreams; Our poor ambitons that fleet away, Fast as the winter-torrent's streams;

Alexander's conquests, Casar's spoils; All that we hate, and all that we trust; The beggar's fears, and the rich man's hopes-All end at last in a pinch of dust.

AT They had a baby convention in Muscatine, Iowa, the other day. Fifteen mothers with their little ones were present, and voted on the question of the prettiest. Each baby got one vote and no more.

Damascus is the oldest city in the world. Tyre and Sidon have crumbled on the shore. Baa bec is a ruin; Palmyra lies buried in the sands of the desert. Ninevah and Babylon have disappeared from the shores of the Tigris and the Euphrates. Damaseus remains what it was before the days of Abraham-a centre of trade and travel an island of verdure in a desert.

We learn from a gentleman, just from Pontotoe county, Miss , the scene of the occurrence, of a tragedy which occured there last Tuesday evening. Our grey than blue in the informant says that the safety and quiet to which we refer? of the citizens in that locality have been interfered with for some time past, by the lawless, doings of a small gang of men, headed by a desperate viliain South wear Jeff. Davises picture in named McDonald. On the evening of their bosoms? the day mentioned above, about eight o'clock, McDonald, and three of his clan, went to the house of a highly respectable old farmer, whose name is given as King, for the purpose of robbing him of a considerable amount of money which it was the ught he had at his residence. Mr. King resisted the could. demands of the villains to deliver over ter made a violent assult upon him and his daughter, who seem to have been all of the family at home that evening, After a desperate resistance, Mr. King was shot dead at the hands of some of robbers, and his daughter severely pierced through the chest, which will, if not already, prove fatal. The noise of the melee reached the ears of some of the neighbors, who proceeded to Mr-King's premises as fast as possible, armcd with guns The rapidity of their approach, after the perpetration of the terrible crime, brought them upon Mc-Donald and his band before they had found the treasure which had been the incentive to the bloody deed. The robbers tried to escape, but two of them were only successful in the attempt. McDonald was killed, and one of his desperadoes captured after being felled to the earth with the but of a gun. Great excitement prevals in the county, on account of the murder of Mr. King, and the fiendish shouting of his daughter. - Memphis Avalanche.

Liberality of Merchants and citizens of Nashville .- It appears from the on the published proceedings of a meeting of the Nashville Chamber of Commerce, that Judge Wyeth of Marshal County, has recently been very successful in his appeal to the citizens of Nashville, in motion abchalf of the suffering poor of North Alabama, whom he represented asnumbering thousands, absolutely withwithout provisions, money, or stock with which to cultivate their lands, and no cotton to fall back upon. At the conclusion of Judge Wyeth's appeal, the lorce contracts, any law, statute, etc., to her trade and history

Chamber of Commerce donated 500 bushels of corn, and the resident patrons of the turf $300: after which some 50 barrels of flour and 300 bushels of corn, and a aquantity of salt, bacon, crackers &c. were contributed by individuals and firms. A committee was appointed to wait on Gen. Thomas and solicit a car load of hard bread, and another to wait on the Merchants of Nashville. Hon. T. B. Cooper and Col. Alabama, and the Reconstruction Soi save a Committee.

The following testimony from the Reconstruction Committee, in regard to Alabama, was reported on the 16th. We copy from the New York Times Brevet Maj Gen. A. L Chetlain was in Alara little over three months, up to January last. A class of intelligent and worthy men are anxious that Northern wen should come into the State, but a majority of the people oppose them. There is generally a teeling of dislike to the colored people, and in some localities they are treated brutaily, robbedion the highway and frequently killed. The price of labor is lower than in any other Southern State. The wages of able bodied men range from eight to twelve dollars per month. A majority of the people of Central and Southern Alabama have but little love for the Union; and are no more loyal now than they were two years ago: Kismapping negroes in Central and Southern Alabama and sending them to Cuba has been carried on for some months past. There is a strong feeling of hostility to the Freedmen's Bareau throughout the central part of Alabama. They regard it as a species of espionage and oppose merbitovery strongly.

Brevet-Maj Gen Wager Swayne, commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau for Alabama since August last, testifies that since he went there, there has been agradual cossation of disorder, a progress in legislation toward equal laws for all men, and a marked decrease of political animosity. When he went there, failing to induce the Provisional Goverpment to i sue a proclamation declaring that the negro shou d have full civit rights, witness issued such an order himself, inviting the judges and magistrates of the State to become his agents for the administration of justice. The order was seconded by the Governor and generally carried out by the mag strates. The system of agencies was continued by order of the Convention when it as embled, un il the close of the next session of the Legislature. That J w McDaniel, body, however, when it met, passed a | Jerry Smith, series of taws, regarded as a practical re-coactment of Slavery in all particulars, exc pt the sale of persons The bills were vetoed by Gov. Parsons, and the vetoes were sustained in each instance; after which no attempt at class tegislature was made. After the surrender of Lee a kindly feeling was generally expressed toward the United States, since which a gr at increase of bitterness bas taken place, displaying itself in a sort of social ostracism of Union men, Northern emigrants and army officers. There is a general desire on the part of the people to see the Bureau removed .- The Governor would like to see if rem ved, but while it remains, ev | J Loyd. tends to it cordial co-operation. BEAUTIFUL Thought-A writer whose life had passed its meridian thus cloquently discourses upon the speedy flight of time:

Forty years once seemed a long and weary pilgrimage to make. It now seems but a ste ; and yet along the way are broken shrines, where a thousand diopes fade into ashes, footsteps sacred under their drifting dust, green mounds where the grass is fresh with the waterling of tears, shadows even in which we should not forget. We will garner the sunshine of these years, and with chastened steps and hope, pushed on to wards the twinkling stars, where the waters are still, and the torm never beat." A letter from Havanna dated April 7th; to the New Yrok News, say, that Cruz, in three days, we have a large lotand Gov Moore as illustrated in the columns of the Mexican Times. The n ble veteran Gen Early, is among the Imperial humbug and the scheme of colonization. He says, "the Emperor, Carlotte, nor any one of European nationally, can go three miles from the city of Mexico or any other center of the Civil Rights bill, and a white procession passed them, during the passage of which three white pers us were killed. The military restored order.

The Word's Washington special of the 13th says the Reconstruttion Committee are said to have nearly completed a plan for the reconstruction of the Southern States. It is in the shape of a constitutional amondment in regard to representatives and is believed to besatisfactory to both wings of the party, and they expect to get a two-thirds voteon it in both Houses.

The late elections point very cheering to a reaction in the Northern mind, which promises to break the back of Rudicalism, and bring its baleful domination to an end. Late municipal and other elections in the Western States indicate heavy Pomocratic gains. In several rowns and counties in New Jersey, and Albany, New York, the results of recout contests are of the same gratifying character

Desirable Lands for Sale Farm of 800 acres in Calhoun county Alabana within 6 miles of Jacksonville the cour ty seat, I mile of the town of Alexand, in, and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville and Selma Railroud: Three hundred acres open the remainder very heavily timberdetached in the framed der very neavity insper-ed with pine and oak. One lot, 160 acres is detached in the from the main body. Im-provements a large framed dwelling with 8 good sized rooms well finished, located in a beautiful oak grove—all necessary out buildings. There is a large nover failing spring within 100 yards of the house with a branch flowing from it nearly large enough to turn a mill—also a well of fine water in the yard—it has on it also a large gin house—a large apple and peach orchard, and taken altogether is one of the most valuable and desirable farms in North Alabama.

ALSO-A Farm of 870 acres more or less in Calhoun county, Ala., within 8 miles of Jack-souville, 1 mile of Alexandria and 7 miles of Blue Mountain Station on the Jacksonville & Selma Railroad-350 acres cleared the balance an original forest heavily timbered. This farm is very finely watered by spring branches which head on the place —80 acres of the open land is cedar bottom of very superior quality producing a good season 50 bushels of corn per acre and I bale of cotton. Improvements—a large well finished frame-house and all necessary out buildings in a good state of preservation. There is a Baptist church on the land—and the society in the neighborhood equal to any in the State. This farm in the hands of a good practcal furmer could be made one of the most productive in the region in which it is located. has on it 11 miles of cedar fencing taken off the cedar hottom. Lime stone is very abundant on the place which could be converted into line at very little cost either for market or for fertilizing purposes on the farm.

On his phantom steed, with pession's speed; Death sweeps on his circuits, wide. Through every zone he rides alone With Dread as his weird bride. On the brink

Dirk and wide In the gloom. Passing thee

With a mocking glee, o'er every sea, He gathers his tracking storm, And he hunts down life, in its grasping strife, In every breathing form.
With his muffled feet his courser fleet O'ertakes each flying man, And summons him back in ever crowd To tramp in his caravan.

Ponder! Sigh!

Each must die.

Vengeful death In each breath Conquers life.

To the laughing child and the savage wild, To the maiden in mystic light—
To the rayless mind, in mission kind—
To hope with its beamings bright— To the proud and great in pomp of state— To all of a vagrant birth— To the heart of grief, like a smitten leaf— To all of this mouning earth Hasien death Ponder Death! Inky waves, Little Jerry, The Miller.

All around

Thee abound

Beneath the hill you may see the mill,
Of wasting wood and crumbling stone;
The wheel is dripping and clattering still,
But Jerry, the miller, is dead and gone.

Year after year, early and late, Alike in summer and winter weather, He pecked the stones and calked the gate, And mill and miller grew old together.

"Little Jerry!"-'twas all the same-They loved him well who called him so; And whether he'd ever another name, Nobody ever seemed to know.

'Twas "Little Jerry, come grind my rye;" And "Little Jerry, come grind my wheat; And "Little Jerry" was still the cry, From matron bold and maiden sweet.

'Twas "Little Jerry" on every tongue. And thus the simple truth was told; For Jerry was little when he was young, And Jerry was little whe he was old. But what in size he chanced to lack,

That Jerry made up in being strong;
I've seen a sack upon his back
As think as the miller, and quite as long.

Always busy and always merry, Always doing his very best A notable wag was tittle Jerry, Who uttered with his standing jest-

"When will you grind my corn, I say?"
"Nay," quoth Jerry, "you needn't scold;
Just leave your grist for half a day,
And never fear but you'll be tolled."

How Jerry lived is known to fame, But how he died there's none may know; One autumn day the rumor came—
"The brook and Jerry are very low."

And then 'twas whispered mournfully

The leech had come and he was dead; And all the neighbors flocked to see :-"Poor Little Jerry!" was all they said. They laid him in his earthy bed-llis miller's coat his only shroud-"Dust to dust": the parson said,

And all the people wept aloud.

For he had shunned the deadly sin, And not a grain of over-toll Had ever dropped into his bin, To weigh upon his parting soul.

Beneath the bill there stands the will, Of wasting wood and crumbling stone; The wheel is dripping and clattering still, But Jerry, the miller, is dead and gone

The Tragedy in Philadelphia.

BEVEN PERSONS FIENDISHLY MURDERED FOUR CHILDREN AND THREE ABULTS.

From the Philadelphia Ledger, April 11.

The most terrible tragedy ever committed in this city was disclosed yesterday afternoon though believed to have been perpetrated on Saturday last The victims were Christopher Dearing, a drover, his wife, his four children and his niece, a young woman about 25 years old. Mr. Dearing occupied a farm on Jones-lane, some distance from the Point House road, belonging to Mr. Theodore Mitchell, of Philadelphia. He had lived there for several years. and had been a resident of the neighborhood for twelve or fifteen years. Besides his own family, he had a hired man living with him, a German, whose name none of the residents thereabouts could give; also a lad, called Cornelious 17 years old, who was bound to Mr. Dearing, and had been with him seven or eight years. The last seen of Mr. Dearing alive was on Saturday last when he came to the city on business, and called upon Mr. Mitchell, his laudlord. After transacting his bustness he seemed to have made purchase of some meat, which was found in his wagon, and to have driven to his house with his piece, before referred to, who had been spending a few days at Berlington with some friends.

Since Saturday all has been quiet at the farm. The neighbors thought it strange that they did not see either the children or the adults of the family about, but no one undertook to ascertain the reason until yesterd y. About 2 o,clock one of them a friend of Mr Dearing, went to the house and found it fastened up. Prompted by curiosity, he raised one of the sashes and entered No one was within, and while the interior was not entirely in order, it did not exhibit such unusual disorder as to create suspicion of foul play. The barn and stable then visited and in the former the foot of a man was seen protruding from under a pile of hay. The hay was removed and a most shocking sight was presented. Not only was the murdered body of Mr. Dearing uncovered, but that of his niece also. Both were in full dress, he having even his gloves on, and both had their heads nearly severed from their bodies.

The pockets of his pantaioons had been turned inside out and his body seemed to have been scarched, as if for a money belt They had doubtless been carried here and the hay piled over them to prevent immediate discovery. The finding of these bodies led to the belief that the mo her and children had met a similar fate, and a search was at once institu ed for them In the meantime, however, the news of the murder had been circulated, and information had been conveyed to the Fee nd District Police-station, and f om there, by telegraph, to the Central Station. Chi & Ruggles and Frank in at once repaired to the scene of the tragedy, with High Constable Clark and several other detective officers Coroner Tay lor also was soon at the farm, but before he arrived the other bodies had been found in a corn-crib attached to the barn, the mother and four children all lying together, and all, as Mr. Dearing and his niece were, with their throats cut and their bodies concealed under a pile of hay. The mother had, in addition, the top of her head crushed in. Probably a more sheeking sight was never seen than the mother and her murdered children, after they had been removed from the crib. One of the children was a mere babe, less than 2 years old, whose innocent face was have moved even the brutal mur erer's heart to pity. The victims with their ages, are as follows: Christopher Dear ing, 40 years; Julia, his wife, 35 years E izabeth Dolan, the niece, 25 years; John Dearing, 8 years; Thomas Dear-ing, 6 years; Anna Dearing, 4 years;

Emily Dearing, 2 years. The eldest child, Wm. Dearing, was spending a few days with his grandfath-

> Sir James MacIntosh invited Dr. Parr to take a drive in his gig. The horse became restive "Gently, Jimmy," said the doctor, "dont irritate, always soothe your horse. Jimmy you'll do better, without me. Let me down, Jimmy." Once on terra firma the doctor's view of the case was changed 'Now, Jimmy, touch him up. Never let a horse get the better of you. Touch him up, dont spare him-I'll wa.k back."

The question, does getting drunk ever advance one's happiness? would seem to be put to rest by the Irishman who went courting when drunk, and was asked what pleasure he found in whisky. "O, Nelly, it's a trate, entirely, to see two of your sweet purty faces instead of one!"
